TPI Corporation to Establish Mexican Operations

Gary, Tennessee -based TPI Corporation will shortly begin to manufacture to snap disc thermostats in Saltillo, Mexico.

The company has signed an agreement with The Offshore Group for the rental of 34,822 square feet of industrial space, as well as for outsourced manufacturing support, or “shelter,” services at the La Angostura Industrial Park. TPI plans to employ 100 workers, and will add additional workers as the company’s market share grows.

According to the company’s owner, Bobby Henry “Please insert quote. Usually the quotes have to do with the drivers behind the decision to go to Mexico, as well as why The Offshore Group was chosen as the shelter service provider.”

In addition to the initial production of thermostats, the company also plans to produce lighting products and capillaries for heating and cooling applications, as well as to move products that are now being manufactured in China to Mexico.
